Reference: Docket #98N-1038

To Whom It May Concern:

I believe that American Citizens have a right to know if their food is natural or artificial, organic or pesticide laden, genetically evolved or genetically altered.

We should allow aware consumers to identify the difference and make a choice for themselves and their family. It is not government's role to further certain products, but to protect the individual.

If the government does not require labeling of scientifically altered food, then the government is subjecting its citizens to a mass experiment the results of which have not been documented since the dawn of man.

Free speech, Free choice, Free people NO MORE INFRINGEMENT ON OUR RIGHT TO CHOOSE! CAPITALISM not SOCIALISM!

That is my opinion. I'm a Licensed Insurance Agent w/Farmer's Insurance at the most successful agency in the history of the company. FYI.

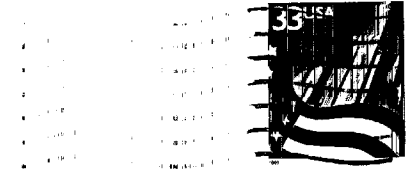

Yours truly,

Eric M. Schubert
